Job fair at NCCC Rescheduled to April 25

Saranac Lake – The Adirondack Daily Enterprise will host its third annual Job Fair from noon to 4 p.m. Wednesday, April 25 in the North Country Community College gymnasium.

There will be 43 businesses and organizations looking for employees for part-time, full-time, seasonal jobs and permanent career positions. Some will offer sign-on bonuses, paid college and other perks to entice the active seeker or the person who might be interested in a better opportunity than their present position.

Those attending should bring their resume. The Saranac Lake Rotary Club will be on hand to help with resumes and perform mock interviews, if requested.

For those who can't make it, check out the special supplement, "Get the Job," inside the Friday, March 9 edition of the Enterprise, and in this week's Lake Placid News.

This supplement includes all the businesses who are looking for employees and tips for how to land the job you seek.

Anyone who is not an Enterprise subscriber, but who would like to receive a free copy of "Get the job" is asked to call 518-891-2600.
